Do You Know the Answers to these Questions?

- What does it cost your organization to print a page?
- How many printers/copiers/fax machines do you have in service?
- Do you know the 'real time' status of those devices?
- Do you know the status of each and every open and closed service request across your entire fleet of printers?
- What happens if a print device goes down? How do you get it serviced?
- How do you currently acquire, and manage your supplies, such as toner?
